

2012 Rice Research to Production course at the International Rice Research Institute (IRRI)

3 week course in the Philippines, May 15 – June 1, 2012

Gain

- Training at the International Rice Research Institute with global experts in plant breeding, economics, agriculture and environmental sciences

Practical

- Get your feet wet in the rice paddies
- Learn about cutting edge research and production
- Meet the people who live and work in this rice culture

Experience

- Work with an international team
- Join the next generation working with international development to address global problems

U.S. citizens who are students are eligible for NSF funding. NSF funding covers course fees, room & board and transportation costs. For more information contact Susan McCouch (srm4@cornell.edu) or Francine Jasper (fj10@cornell.edu). Applications are available at <http://ip.cals.cornell.edu/professionaldev>.

Submit applications by January 12, 2012.

Developed by IRRI and Cornell U. with funding from the National Science Foundation